MISSOULA, Mont.--

The "1977 Wyotana Conference," featuring presentations of interpersonal communication research papers by graduate students from the University of Wyoming, Laramie, and the University of Montana, Missoula, will be June 24 at UM.

Mike Fahs, representing the UW Department of Communication, and Dr. Eldon E. Baker, chairman of the UM Department of Interpersonal Communication, are conference codirectors.

Baker said the purposes of the conference are to generate, facilitate and strengthen graduate student scholarship in communication at UW and UM.

Presentations of papers and related critiques will be from 8:30-11:45 a.m. and 1-4:15 p.m. June 24 in rooms 360 D-E of the University Center on the Missoula campus. Faculty members of both schools will evaluate the students' presentations.

Fahs will present a general critique of the conference at 4:15 p.m. June 24.

A no-host luncheon and Montana barbecue for conference participants and friends will be included in conference activities.

All formal portions of the "1977 Wyotana Conference" will be open to the public without charge.

Students from Wyoming participating in the conference will include Maureen Yandle, Tim McGough, Steve McGonigle and Janet Vasilius.

Graduate students representing UM are: Jeffery J. Bell, Havre; Marc R. Scow, Helena; Aza Libeskind, Missoula; M. Joanne Hall, Stanford, Mont.; Tara Lee Shepherd, Richland, Ore; Floyd Williams, Seattle, Wash., and John J. Metzke, Greenwood, Wis.
